MAY 3 PROGRAM: CODE-FRIENDLY NATIVE LANDSCAPING with Brent McCallister

One of the most challenging aspects of landscapes utilizing native plant material is to overcome the notion that they often tend to look untidy and do not conform to community standards and aesthetics. In this presentation, Brent shows the process of transforming a 1/3 acre, suburban lot into a park-like xeric hammock forest. By combining the principles of landscape architecture, forestry, habitat creation and art, he has attempted to make his home appear as if he just cleared enough space for the house and left the rest for nature.

Brent McCallister is a Landscape Architect and active Tarflower Chapter member. Brent has had a love for the land from his childhood when his family would vacation among the parks and forests of West Virginia. Brent chose a career in landscape architect, combining his passion for biology, botany, art and architecture. Since graduating from WVU College of Forestry and Agriculture, Brent started his career with the West Virginia DNR and has spent the past 40 years specializing in park, habitat and landscape design for Florida's natural communities. His most rewarding professional accomplishment has been the Orange County Streetscape program with over 17,500 trees planted.

where one doesn't have to venture too far off the road to get a good look. We will meet Saturday, May 14 at 9am and spend about 3 hours driving through the WMA and stopping along the way. Dress for the outdoors, bring plenty of water and a lunch. This is considered an easy trip since most of the viewing is close to the cars with no long distance walking. The entry fee is $3.00 per person or $6.00 per car. We will meet

CHANGE TO TARFLOWER BYLAWS

In order to correct an omission from the Tarflower Bylaws, we request the membership to vote to add "Field Trips" to the list of committees and to change the "Telephone" committee to "Communications."

Tarflower Chapter has had a field trip coordinator for many years; however, it is not listed in the current version of the chapter Bylaws. The Tarflower Board considered making this position an elected officer position, but the final recommendation was to continue to have this position as a committee.

The change from "Telephone" to "Communications" is to bring the Bylaws up to date with current technology, allowing for various social media communication methods.

A vote by the general membership at the May meeting is required to make these changes to the Bylaws. A copy of the Tarflower Bylaws will be made available at the May meeting or upon request to Jackie Rolly (j.y.rolly@att.net).

UPCOMING EVENTS

May 14 – PLANT RESCUE AT PINE RIDGE

Another rescue is scheduled for Saturday, 14 May, at Pine Ridge — a week earlier than usual so it doesn't conflict with the annual Conference the following week. We'll meet at the Walgreens at the intersection of Tilden Road and SR 535, Winter Garden, at 830am and caravan to the rescue site. Please bring water for yourself, hat, sunscreen, insect repellent, shovel and pots. Please let Jackie Rolly know if you are attending (j.y.rolly@att.net) so we don't leave anyone behind or if we have to cancel or change plans due to weather.

TARFLOWER NEEDS YOU!

The following are committees listed in the Tarflower Bylaws. Committee heads are appointed by the President. Please review and let anyone on the Tarflower Board know if you are interested in serving as a Committee Head or on a Committee. (Some Committee Heads are shown below if already serving.) Please consider getting involved in your chapter and keeping Tarflower an important and viable chapter. We need you!

APRIL FIELD TRIP TO CATFISH CREEK by Pete Dunkelberg

The sun was already low in the afternoon sky when we started our trek through the strangely attractive landscape known as Catfish Creek. There was no creek in sight. Instead, we followed trails of deep dry white sand up and down small hills and around small tub lakes, with ample choices of trails all seemingly leading nowhere. About a mile and a half in, at the top of the highest little hill, we came upon an improbable marble monument. The writing on the monument told of the excellent ecologist and naturalist Allen David Broussard, who died young and after whom this natural area is now named.

To the untrained eye, the area might look to be a wasteland of palmetto, scrubby oaks and small shrubs. To those who appreciate Florida nature, it is an area of rare beauty. The sky blue lupine (Lupinus diffusus) grows there and some were blooming, although most were sporting their fuzzy seedpods. The tall pawpaw (Asimina obovata), only found in Florida scrub, had its large white flowers on display. The rather thick-leaved pineland milkweed (Asclepias humistrata) that we usually see there had already exchanged its flowers for seedpods. We didn't check for all the smaller plants along the way. Instead, we made good time to the monument where we enjoyed the evening breeze and the hilltop view of Bok Tower to the west and a rising nearly full moon to the east. After taking pictures and finding some interesting plants in the immediate area, we settled down to a light supper in the twilight. We relaxed until dark, and then had a leisurely walk back to the staging area, enjoying the night and the sounds of whippoorwills, crickets and several species of frogs.
